MAN'S BODY FOUND

A FEW MILES FROM RED DEER

Remains Supposed to be Those of Peter Hansen, of Everts, last Seen a Week Since—Police Looking For Companion

Red Deer, August 9.—The body of a man was found yesterday about three miles north of town lying a few yards from the trail. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition. It is supposed to be the remains of Peter Hansen of Everts, a settler about twenty miles west of town. Hansen was last seen alive on Tuesday of last week. The police are looking for the party who was with him when last seen.

SUSPICION OF MURDER.

Red Deer, August 9.—The body of a man named Hansen was found today near the railway track five miles north of here, with the throat cut. The body was badly decomposed and had been lying where it was found for seven or eight days. No clue to the murderer has yet been found, but the police are taking the case up. Hansen is supposed to have had about $80 on him when last seen alive, and his pockets had been emptied, this giving rise to the suspicion that he was murdered.

ABUSING A PRIVILEGE

Editor Bulletin:

Dear Sir—Considerable inconvenience is being experienced by the action of certain persons committing outrages on the land of Mr. Wm. McKay on the northeast quarter of 22-53-24. Some five years since, the wet seasons caused an impassable slough in the section road between this land and N.W. 22. The authorities at Regina were appealed to and steps taken for draining the slough but through the kindness of Mr. McKay travel was permitted on his land on condition that gates which he provided should be kept shut. This condition was not fairly acted on, causing Mr. McKay much loss and inconvenience and valuable animals were lost. This year Mr. McKay gave notice that he would on account of this stop travel on his land. The ratepayers were consulted on various ways of dealing with the question this year, but finally Mr. McKay kindly gave us leave to continue the travel if the gates were kept shut until we hoped to be able to grade the slough if the dry weather continued. Abuse and threats of throwing off the gates, cutting the wires and defying his power to shut up the road, have so worked on the man that he has taken legal advice and has shut up the road. Mr. McKay has in every way acted like a man, honorably and obligingly. He has suffered considerable loss and yet has paid his taxes without any demur. I consider he is perfectly justified in his action.

Now, sir, I have every reason to believe these outrages were done with the object of pushing the council and department at Regina, and I think you will agree with me that a more disgraceful course could not have been taken. The matter is being investigated but in the meantime steps are being taken to improve the road east and west between sections 21 and 28, so that those who did not commit the folly will have as little inconvenience as possible. Any complaints or information should be made to me as the councillor having charge of the division.

A meeting of the council is to be held in the city hall, Edmonton, on Saturday next, August 12, at 2 p. m. and anyone having complaints should attend. F. C. CLARK.

FT SASKATCHEWAN FAIR

GOOD WEATHER AND LARGE CROWDS

The Annual Fair of the Agricultural Association Held Yesterday—The Racing Events.

The Fort Saskatchewan exhibition association was fortunate in their selection of a day for the exhibition, and though it was rather a busy time for farmers, they turned out in force to attend the show. The rain the evening before was in itself an excuse for a holiday.

The show of cattle and horses was very good, both as to quality and numbers, and would do credit to a much older settled country. The exhibit of vegetables and roots was particularly good. The prize list will be published as soon as it can be secured from the secretary.

The attendance was large. Over two thousand people were on the grounds. Quite a few drove from the city to take in the annual exhibition of the neighboring town.

The horse races interested the crowd for the most of the afternoon and resulted as follows:

FELL FROM A DERRICK.

What might have been a serious accident happened today at McDougall & Secord's east of the Bank of Commerce. A derrick was being put in place to hoist the iron posts for the structure. Mr. Jesse Muttart, one of the contractors, was at the top of the derrick when the guy ropes slackened, and it crashed down to the foundation, taking Mr. Muttart with it.

For an instant it looked as though the derrick would fall upon the unfortunate man and crush him, but he held onto it and, luckily, fell beside it. He was insensible for a few minutes.

Dr. Ferris was called in and brought him to in a short time. No bones were broken but he was badly shaken up and will feel the effects of his fall for a few days.

THE GREAT WEST AND GREAT NORTH

Public School Inspector McCaig, of Edmonton, writes as follows in the Toronto Globe:

Edmonton, July 25.—The Alberta country in common with the rest of the Northwest Territories, has had a good deal of advertising in recent years, but its advantages and potentialities have never had the publicity that they deserve. Though Northwest topics have been bandied about with considerable facility of lip, definite and accurate ideas with respect to the country are not common property. People from the United States are doing a good deal of travelling to find out about it.
Canadians are not great travellers, nor do they change their ideas readily. This is part of a fine and desirable stability, but it has its disadvantages as well. It is responsible for holding the east from enjoying to the full its heritage of the great west, and it is to be desired for the sake of the west itself that we should have the strongest possible heaven of good Canadian sentiment in the overwhelming masses to be assimilated in the West during the next twenty years.

The grossest and most unpardon-able misconception with respect to the west country that is prevalent relates to the Northwest climate.
People in Ottawa and Montreal shiver when the Northwest winter is mentioned. This is intended for humor on the part of the easterner, but the joke is principally on him.
The Northwest in the popular idea is a blizzard-ridden waste and Edmonton is on the northerly fringe of it.
The knowledge that most people have of the Northwest begins with the fur trader and missionary and ends there. The picture of the snow-covered hut and dog train stay with them like visions of dear old Santa Claus. In Alberta we have only from a half to two-thirds of the blizzard-making material that the people of eastern Canada have. People who want to get away from blizzard countries such as North Dakota, come straight to Alberta. The dominant feature of our winter climate is the chinook wind, the nature and effect of which has been so frequently explained that the subject needs no detailed discussion here. A clear winter sky, no fog in your throat or head and an atmosphere with a sort of wine exhilaration, whether you are at work or at play—this is about how it seems.

It seems to be a certainty, as that susceptible Canadian, Sir Wilfrid Laurier has said, that Canada is destined to be the darling among nations in the twentieth century. She is chosen over all for achievement and progress. It might have said likewise that the great Saskatchewan valley was to be the theatre of this achievement. The great St.
Lawrence system has its clustered millions on the shores of its streams and lakes; the basin of the Red River of the north has its swarming cities and its world granaries; the Saskatchewan valley will cradle a great people and will nourish countless thousands more. This may sound a commonplace in the light of the very considerable immigration that has already moved toward the Territories; but such development as we can count is merely a beginning. The growth of the new Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta during the next twenty years promises to be without parallel in the history of the world. Immigration from all quarters of the world is swinging into one great central Canada-ward and the brain and brawn of the eager and susceptible pioneer was never exercised on raw material and resources so simply and richly productive.

The country has a wonderful abundant and diversity of resources and Alberta seems especially favored on account of its climate. The south branch of the Saskatchewan comes through the rushing area, and the land of the irrigator. It was once thought that the south country was good for ranching and nothing else, but this reputation was not wholly deserved. A traveller in a Mexican district asked a native what the people raised, and got for reply:

"Hill and cattle. Most of the fellows are going out of cattle."

A good deal has been written about the passing of the range, the end of the ranching industry, etc., but though old time methods are going out more cattle are coming in. A country that will grow a good crop of grass will be improved as to moisture, conservation of tillage, and so will grow wheat, oats, tame hay, and roots in greater total than it will natural grass. So the south country is growing more and better cattle than ever. Much land that at one time was considered fit only for grazing is being devoted wholly to tillage. Right in the middle of the ranch area, too, the best sugar business has found place and is a complete success. Millions of acres of coal beds make the absence of fuel timber no hardship, and give a starting point to the diversified manufacturing industry.

The north country is an area of mixed farming that can support an immense population and give scope for extensive production of large quantities of surplus food products.
The North Saskatchewan is flanked by a remarkable depth of magnificent soil, humus predominating, but shading into sandy loam, clay predominating, but shading into sandy loam and clay loam in places. Its timber resources, especially on the river banks, are considerable, consisting of spruce, jack pine and poplar.
The fuel supply of settlers at present consists largely of poplar, but when this is exhausted an inexhaustible supply of coal is available. The working of the coal deposits on a large scale will begin with the establishment of good transportation facilities. On nearly all lands there is sufficient open land for the beginner and in any case the land is easily cleared as the soil is loose and the rooting of timber right on the surface. Crude petroleum with asphalt base is now being pumped twenty-five miles from the city, while illuminating oil and gas are found in abundant in the northern part of the new Province.

The fish of the Lesser Slave and northern lakes will be an important addition to local food supply when transportation is secured and will likewise become an important export.
The fur trade sinks into insignificance in comparison with more recently developed interests, but still totals in the neighborhood of a million a year through the port of Edmonton.
The placer gold of the Peace, Athabasca and Saskatchewan give employment to thousands of men.

The Great West and Great North

ment and revenue to a considerable population.

A phase of agricultural work that has come into recent prominence in Alberta is the growing of winter wheat. The success that has been reached in this work has given to Alberta the title of the "New wheat area." It started first in the south and was made a pronounced success by Mr. E. E. Thompson, of Spring Coulee. The yield on the whole area shown has not been below 35 bushels per acre; it has been higher in some localities, and one instance of 60 bushels per acre is authentically recorded. Mr. Thompson's interests have extended north to High River where he has this year 2,500 acres of good grain. The first efforts at winter wheat raising were failures owing to the varieties tried being unsuitable, and to the best kind of cultivation not being understood. The Odessa and Dawson's Golden Chaff did not succeed. The Kansas or Turkey foot is the kind that is making the business a success. It has to be sown in July or in early August. It grades No. 1 northern, which is just one point below Manitoba hard. The growing of this kind of grain has extended to northern Alberta, and this year several hundred acres will be harvested in the immediate neighborhood of Edmonton. It stood four feet high on July 1 on a firm, clean straw, and will be ready to harvest about the first or second week in August. The successful growing of clover is an easy sequence to the introduction of fall wheat.

The economic and commercial importance of the finding of this new wheat area can scarcely be overestimated. It does away with the importation at high cost of flour for home consumption, and gives variety and stability to agricultural interests. Its most important effect is the opening up of new channels of export trade for Alberta products. Consignments of Alberta-made flour have been going into Japan for the past two years. We have thus a nearer seaboard market for our grain than we had before, and it is difficult to place a limit to the possible expansion of Oriental trade that may follow this opening.

Edmonton and the Edmonton country have taken on a new prominence owing to the choice of the city as the provincial capital of Alberta and to the phenomenal railway development in sight for the district.

It may be accepted as axiomatic that, even going on the narrowest and most selfish basis of securing its own safety, a Government will act on a broad consensus of opinion in preference to acting on narrow political motives. Governments are not looking for the notoriety of romantic suicide. It would likewise be considered an almost extravagant bit of sentiment even for a railway corporation to run its line through the beautiful Saskatchewan Valley just for the joy of its scenery, and it would be next to sensational for three great railroads to butt in on the scenery.

The diversity and richness of the local resources of the city cannot be questioned. There is no city in the Territories that can support within its walls such a mixed set of industries intensively pursued, and these give a feature of permanent stability. The natural transportation afforded by the Saskatchewan if properly developed will increase the importance of the place as a commercial centre. The development north, of course, is not so great as it is south, but just as there was no Canadian west without the Canadian Pacific Railway, so there can be no Canadian north without railway facilities to open it up. The resources of the north country are very great. Good wheat is grown nearly four hundred miles north of Edmonton. Farming settlements are already numerous along the Peace River, at such places as Grand Prairie, Dunvegan, Peace River Crossing and Fort Vermilion. At the last-named place there are three mills, and probably three hundred farmers. There is also a mill at Dunvegan; and the wheat area by individuals in some cases reaches two hundred and fifty acres.

Development in the immediate future will demonstrate that the three great lines that will thread the Saskatchewan valley are not going to cut off all the requirements in transportation for the productive west, but that they are running through the centre of it, and that lines will be north of it in the future. It is to be expected that a short line from Edmonton will carry the produce of the Peace River country, and that some portion of the produce of the south country will find their way to the Atlantic for part of the year by this shortest rail and shortest water route.

The field for energetic and ambitious labor in the west has been but half exploited. There is still open in the north a fascinating field for the "men of the north." It is customary for immigration agents to picture new fields for colonization as places offering sudden wealth for slight labor, and to a considerable proportion of people this combination is attractive. The sources of wealth are brain, muscle and raw material. If you come and cannot deliver your part of the goods you will have something disappointing to write home about, but if you are ambitious and strong and feel the cramp and routine of conventional circumstances, there is scope for you out here.

TENDERS

Tenders for the erection of the Bank of Montreal, Regina, from the ground floor level, will be received up to 5 p.m. 26th August, at the offices of W. M. Dodd, Architect, Calgary and Regina, where plans and specifications may be seen and all information obtained.

All tenders to be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, for 5 per cent. of the amount of tender, which will be forfeited should the contractor fail to enter into a satisfactory contract, or should he fail to complete his contract in a satisfactory manner. Cheques will be returned to unsuccessful contractors.

BASEBALL.

The victorious wine clerks ball team met their Waterloo last night when they went up against the Ross Bros. employees. The latter won out by a score of 14 to 11 in a five innings game.

The game had all the interesting and amusing features of an amateur match. The determination of the wine clerks to run to third base even if it was already occupied by one of their men, lost them some runs. This victory makes Ross Bros. so far the champion amateur team. The line-up was as follows:

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC-NIC

The Methodist Sunday school picnic to the Hermitage yesterday was a pronounced success. About 115 passengers went down on the boat. The day was an ideal one and the places well adapted for picnic purposes. Mr. Montgomery met the boat with his team and took the baskets, etc., up to the grounds. The sail down occupied about an hour, the return trip taking a rather longer time.

Savings were erected for the children, and other amusements arranged, among which were foot races which resulted as follows:

Girls under 12—F. Adams, A. Clarke.

LOCAL

Probe: Fine and a little cooler today and Friday.

The steamer Alberta was due to leave Prince Albert, August 10 for Edmonton with a large number of passengers.

J. Melick, of Belmont, began cutting barley today. Grain of all kinds is rapidly maturing and another week of the present weather will see harvest in full swing.

Mr. Robert Tegar has purchased the two corner lots on second street, and McKenzie avenue, opposite the C. N. R. station, from Mr. H. Bowen, for the sum of $7000.

The lawn social held at the residence of Mr. C. E. Morris, Tuesday last was a decided success. The planola used was very kindly loaned by Messrs. Butchart & Pablow.

During a severe storm Judge Wetmore's house at Mossomin was struck three times by lightning, demolishing the chimney and interior furnishings, and scattering the bedroom set in all directions. The occupants were stunned.

H. Ross returned yesterday from Lloydminster. He reports that the steel gang have laid the rails some twelve miles this side of Lloydminster to the Blackfoot coulee, where a delay occurred awaiting the building of several small bridges and culverts. Considerable grading remains to be done between Lloydminster and Vegreville. The contractors are, however, rushing the work with all possible speed. The steel gang are at present working on the line between Battleford and Lloydminster, halting and improving, awaiting the completion of the culverts at the coulee.

Wetaskiwin, August 5.—A peculiar and somewhat startling item of intelligence has just leaked out. The facts of the case are as follows: About two weeks ago the grave-digger of Wetaskiwin had cause to dig a grave in the pauper quarter of the cemetery. In the first excavation he discovered a skeleton, and hastily covered it over, and dug another hole near by. In this case succeeding in laying bare the side of a coffin. He, however, finished the grave, and left it ready for the next day's interment, but when on going his rounds to see that all things were in proper order the next morning he was very surprised to find a coffin in the grave; it is not known how it got there, nor yet what sex it contains. It is surmised that the coffin was taken to the cemetery some time after midnight, and that the burial party became scared at their uncanny work and so hurried off leaving the coffin uncovered. There is considerable talk over the affair, but as neither magistrate nor other officials care about interfering, the matter at present has ended in their saying, "What ought to be done?"

WEDDING.

HISLOP-OLIVER.

A quiet home wedding took place this morning at the residence of Hon. F. and Mrs. Oliver, when their eldest daughter, Miss Harriet, was united in marriage to Dr. J. A. Hislop of this city.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor which was tastefully decorated with flowers. Rev. D. G. McQueen officiated and the room was attended by Mr. O. M. Biggar, while Miss Dora Oliver was bridesmaid. The bride was attired in her travelling costume. Only the bride's family were present. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left, amid congratulations and good wishes, on the morning train for Banff. From there they will go to the coast and to Portland, Oregon. They will return in about six weeks and will reside in the city.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

IN CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Brief Items from many sources tell the story of the day's events.

MANITOBA HARVEST BEGUN.

Brandon, August 10.—Harvesting has commenced at the asylum farm. A binder is at work on a large large field of oats.

WHIPPED THE SHERIFF.

Guelph, August 10.—Richard Carl whose lands have been expropriated by the C.P.R. defied the railway men, and the sheriff and used a whip on them severely. He will appear before a magistrate.

KILLED IN CALGARY.

Port Arthur, August 10.—Wm. Kelly, son of roadmaster Kelly of the C. N. R. died in Calgary as the result of a fall from a horse. Deceased was twenty years of age and had been employed in Calgary for a year.

A FATAL ROMANCE.

Aylmer, P. Q., August 10.—Mrs. Napoleon Gray mother of 10 children eloped with Joseph Menier two weeks ago. The woman returned yesterday and was scrubbing her doorstep when Menier appeared and shot the woman and himself. Both will die.

MORE TROUBLE FOR RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, August 9.—Orders calling out the reservists for the autumn manoeuvres have been cancelled. Riots have broken out in Bessarabia and the rioters are plundering the houses.

WITTE CAN CLOSE WAR.

New York, Aug. 6.—In supplementing the address of M. de Witte to the American people, it is now announced that the Russian envoy's instructions are so explicit that he can arrange peace within twenty-four hours if Japan's terms are moderate.

M. de Witte has not indicated what terms would be acceptable, but the above statement will relieve the apprehensions of the Japanese plenipotentiaries that the instructions of the Russian envoy limit his action to the mere transmission of the Japanese proposals to St. Petersburg for action by the Czar. As a matter of fact, Russia according to the powers granted her agents, is bound to accept any instruction which De Witte and Baron Rosen, the Russian co-plenipotentiary, may deem it wise to approve.

It seems from what members of the Russian mission said this afternoon, M. de Witte's instructions prescribe the maximum limit of terms which will be approved by the Emperor. It will be necessary for the Russian plenipotentiaries to refer anything beyond them to St. Petersburg. The Japanese envoys do not doubt from what they have heard that the instructions of M. de Witte are so comprehensive that he can make peace at once if the terms are not too severe. It has happened in the past that Russian envoys have been elected with full powers and when they began negotiations found that a change had occurred in the attitude of the Imperial government, and that they were compelled to adopt a different course. From that originally determined upon. The dispatches published this morning from St. Petersburg note the prevalence of a warlike sentiment in court circles, and this attracted attention not only in Japan, but in Russian circles as well.

YELLOW JACK IN NEW YORK.

New York, August 6.—One man died of yellow fever at New York's detention hospital at Quarantine today, making the third case of yellow fever discovered on ships entering New York this summer, and the second death. "This is the first time in five years," said Health Officer Doty, "that New York has been threatened by more than one yellow fever case in a summer. William B. Smith, a pantry man taken off the steamer Advance from Colon last Thursday with nine other suspects, died today with an acute case of yellow fever. Several members of the party are still under inspection, but I am positive they are not suffering from yellow fever. The other two yellow fever patients came here early in the summer." Not one of these fever cases, Mr. Doty said, has come here from the fever districts of the United States. Panama has supplied them all, and this is the first year since 1897, according to the official health records at the port of New York, that fever cases from Panama have been either threatening or numerous.

Peters' Pump

Peters' Double Cylinder
Force Pumps

The annexed cut represents our Double Cylinder Force Pump. This is positively the easiest working and most durable pump on the market. Its capacity is far greater than any other pump; and for a stock pump it has no equal. This pump is constructed with two solid brass cylinders and, each one working independently, discharge their full capacity at every upward and downward stroke of the handle; therefore our pump will discharge twice as much water as any other pump with half the amount of labor. Its ease in operating is based on the fact that it has two rods, one on each side of the pipe, and the one balancing the other, overcomes all the hard labor in pumping water. A four-year-old child can easily operate the pump at a depth of 50 feet.

Its durability is far superior to any other pump for the following reasons:

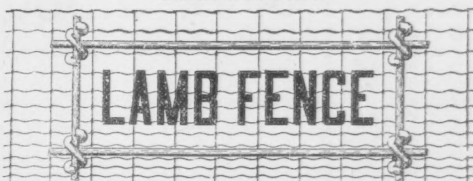

- 1 It has solid brass cylinders which do not wear out the leathers.
- 2 The cylinders being at the bottom of the well never lose their priming.
- 3 It has chilled valve seats which neither rust nor wear.
- 4 The leathers used for plungers and check valves is the very best obtainable.
- 5 It has no stuffing boxes.
- 6 The cylinders are stationary, working nothing but the plunger valves.
- 7 It having double the capacity of any other pump, requires but half the labor.
- 8 The pipes and rods used are all galvanized.

This pump can be fitted for six-inch bored wells with our special double cylinder.

We keep this pump in three different sizes as follows: 3 1/2 in. cylinders for 1 1/2 in. pipe, for stock wells up to 25 feet deep. 3 in. cylinders for 1 1/4 in. pipe, for stock wells up to 35 feet deep. 2 1/2 in. cylinder for 1 1/4 in. pipe, for stock wells up to 60 feet.

The capacity of our double cylinder pump is as follows: 3 1/2 in. double cylinders, 1300 Gal. per hour. 3 in. double cylinders, 1000 Gal. per hour. 2 1/2 in. double cylinder, 700 Gal. per hour.

In Woven Wire Fencing we handle the well known LAMB FENCING.

The Fence is made from the best hard steel galvanized wire, and is kept in 20, 30, and 40 rod rolls in sizes 24", 30", and 50" high. Any person can stretch this wire into place, and its staying qualities will withstand the greatest strain that can be brought against it. In its weaving it is expanded to its greatest tension, consequently it will not contract or expand on the posts. We also have it in ornamental style for front fences, gates to match.

MALTHOID ROOFING
is giving splendid satisfaction wherever used.

Not expensive, though best in quality. Absolutely weather-proof, always ready for instant use. Requires no paint—nothing but a hammer to lay it. Tin caps, nails and cement for seams furnished without extra charge.

Write for illustrated booklet, gladly mailed upon request.

Story of The Engagement

Tokio, August 7.—Commander Akiyama, who participated in the battle of the Sea of Japan, has prepared for publication an extended statement relating to the great conflict and its weight on the side of gunnery, the battleships and tactics as against the destroyer and the torpedo. He prefaces his statement by declaring that good gunnery depends mainly upon the division officers, and asserts that the Russian officers were lamentably lacking in training. In the early part of the battle the Russians scored but one hit to three landed by the Japanese. Under these circumstances it may be said that the Japanese had three or four guns in action to every one of the Russians, and there was therefore, nothing very surprising about the disparity of losses. The commander says that Admiral Rojestvensky should not be criticized for electing to take his chances at Tsushima. On the contrary, it was the wisest course open to him. Tsushima Strait is a long and narrow one, the season was foggy, and there were more chances of obstructions. Distance and coal were against Sora and the time consumed in beaching that entrance would have betrayed the design, and his plight on emerging from Sora would have been much worse than he might reasonably hope for at Tsushima. The commander insists that the great mistake of the Russians was in marshalling their vessels in double column line-ahead. From the time of going into action in formation, the Japanese regarded victory as assured. Apart from the impossibility of maintaining an orderly formation when pursuing such tactics for defensive purposes there was the fact that only a few of the ships could bring their guns into effective action against the Japanese fleet attacking end on. The latter's ships were able to concentrate the whole fire upon the leading Russian ships and in return received on a limited fire. Had the Russians adopted the strategy of imposing the brunt of action upon their battleships while the rest of the fleet broke through and steered direct for Vladivostok, the commander believes they would have achieved a partial success. Instead of doing that they followed the plan of mutually aiding one another, and thus, when the head of the battleship column got into trouble all the others steamed up and thrust their heads in the lion's mouth without being able to accomplish anything compensatory.

Discussing the question of sinking battleships and armored cruisers by gun fire, the commander expresses the opinion that the fact that the Russian ships were exceptionally low in the water contributed materially to the result. The Russians carried large quantities of coal, stores and ammunition, and thus weighted down and in a rough sea, suffered badly from hits near the water line. The commander says that the battle did not, as some claim, prove the superiority of armor to armor. He points out that the newest armor on the Russian ships, and notably in the case of the Orel, was not pierced. The proper distribution of armor is another question, and he says the Russian builders do not appear to have adopted the latest knowledge and principles on the subject. Akiyama declares the high seas aided the Japanese gunnery, and accentuated the lack of training in the Russians; that the abatement of the wind and sea at night, permitting favorable torpedo attacks, and the vigor of the pursuit movements of the Japanese undertaking the second day of the battle, were notable elements in making the victory complete.

Akiyama defends Nebogatoff's surrender from severe criticism. Nebogatoff was surrounded by 27 ships including the most powerful of Togo's fleet. Had the Russian refused to surrender his ships would have been sunk forthwith. Five or ten minutes would have sufficed to finish the unpleasant task. Any other course would have condemned to needless death two thousand officers and men. Accurate estimates of the actual Russian losses are impossible to obtain. The rescued and surrendered exceed 7,000, and making due allowance for those who escaped in the Amur, Izumrud, Orel, Aurora, Jemtechug and the auxiliaries, the number actually lost is somewhere between two and three thousand.

—Regina Standard: For an hour and a half Regina was in the grasp of the worst thunder storm witnessed in this city for many years last night. The rainfall, strange to say, was not great. While it descended, the rain seemed to be coming in torrents, but it subsided quickly. The flashes of lightning were most frequent and terrible, and the thunder seemed to rend the very skies. Luckily no damage was done, and the storm ceased almost as quickly as it began.

—Calgary Alberta: The regular monthly meeting of the school board was held in Stuart's office last night. After a long discussion of the matter the board decided to ask the architects to submit competitive plans for a ten-roomed stone school building, to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. The proposed new school will be built on the south west school property, and will be thoroughly modern and up-to-date in every respect. Steam heat and the electric fan system of ventilation will be used.

—Lacombe Globe:—It will not be unexpected news to our readers to hear that Capt. V. E. Insip will probably be appointed Captain of the London, Royal Imperial Revenue Cruiser, as the captain has many warm friends who are always pleased to hear of good fortune befalling him, but are not anxious to see him depart from our midst. Mr. Insip's acquaintances look as far as King George the IV. were all coast guards in the old country, and commanded several of the Revenue Cutters in Cornwall on the Cornish coast and the south of England, which were in the early days a rendezvous for both British and French smugglers. The Royal Imperial is a cruiser of 700 tons and will be operated for the protection of fisheries and the running down of smugglers.
